SUMMARY

Designer and frontend engineer in one person: I design the product in Figma, then build it in React, Next.js and TypeScript. At Raga AI, a US healthcare AI company, I lead six frontend engineers as UI/UX Lead (Engineering & Design) and am the top contributor on ClinicalOps, an enterprise healthcare platform (600+ commits). Promoted twice in seven months and recognized as Most Valuable Performer (MVP, Q1 2026). I have also designed and shipped a client website in Next.js and a patient mobile app in React Native.

CORE STRENGTHS

Frontend: React.js, Next.js, TypeScript, JavaScript, HTML5, CSS3, React Native, Redux Toolkit, React Query, Tailwind CSS, Vite, REST API integration, role-based access, SEO-aware Next.js builds, Git/GitHub

Design: Product and UX design in Figma, user flows, wireframes, clickable prototypes, failure and edge-case states, design systems, accessibility-minded UI, AI tools such as Claude for prototyping

Leadership: Leading six frontend engineers, frontend architecture and code review, turning business requirements into technical ones, working with product and backend from handoff to release

Shared Systems: Reusable, responsive UI components, Storybook, design system, white-labelling, shared patterns across web and mobile

Domain: Healthcare (patient intake, scheduling, insurance verification, billing, HIPAA and SOC-2 aware), AI interfaces (agent builder, LLM evaluation), Figma, AI tools such as Claude for prototyping

WORK EXPERIENCE

Raga AI (US healthcare AI company) — San Francisco Bay Area, Remote
UI/UX Lead (Engineering & Design) — Jul 2026 – Present
SDE II, Frontend — Dec 2025 – Jul 2026
SDE I, Frontend — Dec 2023 – Dec 2025

- Lead six frontend engineers and own the frontend: participate in architecture design and review, set standards and run code review, and work with product and backend on requirements before development starts.
- Recognized as Most Valuable Performer (MVP, Q1 2026) and Employee of the Month (January 2026) for leading the architectural design and delivery of ClinicalOps.
- Top contributor (600+ commits) on ClinicalOps, an enterprise clinical operations platform: designed and built its core workflows (patient intake, scheduling, insurance validation/verification, billing and analytics dashboards) as responsive React.js and TypeScript applications for clinical staff.
- Lead Ivy, a patient-facing insurance cost estimate app built in React Native (iOS and Android) and as a web PWA.
- Created a reusable component library with Storybook documentation, role-based access control and white-labelling support, so new screens follow shared patterns and stay consistent across devices.
- Designed and built the new website for a Raga AI client, a six-clinic allergy practice, on Next.js, and redesigned raga.ai around a mascot-led brand.
- Led frontend development of Canvas (a visual drag-and-drop platform for creating and deploying AI agents) and Catalyst (an enterprise platform for evaluating and optimizing LLMs, HIPAA and SOC-2 compliant).

Scale AI — San Francisco Bay Area, Remote
Frontend AI Consultant (Freelance) — Apr 2025 – Jun 2025

- Validated AI model outputs and evaluated AI-generated code for accuracy and UI/UX quality.

Qwikskills — Bengaluru, India
Senior UI Developer — Oct 2022 – Nov 2023
UI Developer — Apr 2022 – Sep 2022

- Led frontend development of Qwikskills' enterprise upskilling platform, including an RBAC admin panel and reusable, themeable design systems (Material UI, SCSS).

PRODUCT & STARTUP WORK

- Segment Manager (product design case study): designed an AI-native segmentation tool end to end in Figma, with a clickable prototype and AI explanations, human approval and audit trail as core principles.
- Crawlable and HumynixAI: building a SaaS visibility scanner for vibe-coding founders, and running a productized frontend and AI development agency.

EDUCATION

Manav Rachna University – Bachelor of Computer Applications (BCA) — 2017 – 2020
